

May the Federation seek and embrace the grace of...

I. Personal transformation:

- Live, model and BE the changes, conversion and healing we want to see in our world
- Claim our spiritual power
- Plunge more deeply into our exploration of God
- Acknowledge our sin of exclusivity in any of its forms
- Transcend fears that keep us from partnering together
- Banish fear of what the charism will cost

II. Becoming “global beings”

- Open windows to the universal reality of a world without boundaries
- Pursue with intention a shift of consciousness that will enable us and others to become global beings, witnessing unifying love and compassion
- Educate ourselves and others to recognize and respond to global needs through the empowerment of all peoples, while respecting their dignity and culture
- Work toward self realization of compassion to become a more conscious global community

III. Deepening our CSSJ relationships

- Partner within the international and Earth community
- Effect systemic change through a mutual exchange of our creativity
- Courageously transcend personal and institutional boundaries
- Unleash the wisdom and vision of our newer members for mission
- Invite the young and people of other cultures to join us as sisters , associates and friends, so that those present at the next federation event will better reflect the global village
- Reclaim the prophetic dimension of religious life in the Church; by developing/ deepening our relationships with sisters across the world
- Dissolve boundaries of mission among us, open avenues for ministry globally, be a collective identity, be “sacrament”
- Engage profoundly and compassionately with the world
- Embrace international communion and solidarity
- Deepen and embody the charism of unifying love in ever widening circles
- Be and act more intentionally as one worldwide congregation
